WASHINGTON April 12 1866.

THE PRESIDENT'S PROCLAMATION. The question has been already officially raised and the President called upon to decide—whether his late proclamation abolished martial law in the South, and whether any class of off nees are hereafter amenable to trial before military commissions. The President is reported to have declared to day to Judge Peabody, counsel for T. C. A. Dexter, late Treasury Agent at Mobile, who was convicted of malfeasance in office, that the proclamation was simply a delineation of his policy, and did not terminate martial law in the late insurrectionary

THE REPORTS IN RELATION TO AN AMNESTY PRO-

THE REPORTS IN RELATION TO AN AMNESTY PRO-CLAMATION.

The report has been repeated from time to time for the past three months that the President is on the eve of issuing a general amnesty proclamation. There is nothing to warrant such rumors, nor, as far as can be ascertained, has the subject been brought to the attention of the Cabinet.

THE LOAN BILL SIGNED BY THE PRESIDENT. The President has approved and signed the Loan bill. RUMORS OF CABINET CHANGES.

The usual number and variety of rumors concerning Cabinet reconstruction have been affoat for several days past, but none of them appear to have much truth in past, but none of them appear to have much train in their composition. The radicals openly asserted for months that the President was practically powerless to remove any of his Cabinot officers, inasmuch as the Senate would never confirm those appointed to succeed them, and the present incumbents would retain their positions until successors were confirmed; but in this they are greatly mistaken. All the laws and precedents estab-lish the President's power of removal. He can appoint a successor to any member of his Cabinet at any time, who would thereupon enter on the duties of the office to which he was appointed immediately, and act as the head of the department ad interim, or until he was confirmed or rejected by the Schate. There is no law prescribing that such appointments shall be immediately sent to the Schate, and weeks of delay might ensure he appoints would by rejected it observes to before the appointee would be rejected if obnexious to that body. The President would then have the vacancy to reall, and the Serate the same right of rejection, and so on indefinitely. The essential and practical right of removal the President undoubledly has, as more than one of his Cabinet will learn should they provoke or challenge him to exerc'se it. This subject has been repeatedly discussed since the organization of the govern-ment, and the same conclusions invariably reached. No longer ago than the winter of 1860-61 the Secretary of War was removed by the President, and Joseph Holt appointed to his place without the coasent or advice of the Senate. That boly was not even notified of the removal until after the passage of a resolution intro-duced by Shidell, of Louisiana, calling upon the President for information on the subject. BILLS BEFORE CONGRESS.

With several exceptions, the several appropriation bills have pessed the House, but have not all been acted upon by the Senata. Both branches, however, could in two or three days close this branch of the public business. The bill fixing the peace establishment of the army, as

Among other important measures an amendatory internal revenue and a tariff bill will probably be reported in the House next week. DELAY OF THE RECONSTRUCTION COMMITTEE IN RELATION TO TENNESSEE.

There is not even a guess as to when the House will proceed to the consideration of the joint resolution from the Reconstruction Committee naming the conditions on which Tenness e may resume its relations to the federal government; nor is it known that the committee have recently matured any Licasure with regard to the late rebellious States in addition to those already reported. The committee centinue to examine witnesses, thus daily adding to their already large accumulation of evidence, which, though ordered to be, has not yet been printed. Enough matter has been collected to make several pen-derous volumes.

SECATOR STEWART'S PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT.

The Senator from Nevada who recently, on the shallow recommendations of the radicals, has magnified himself in his own estimation into the proportions of a statesman, seems to be very uneasy in regard to affairs of state, and displays great indecision in the responsible task of healing the distractions of the country—a labor which he had of late entirely assumed to himself. This morning, there being a large gathering in the galleries to listen to the eulogies on the late Senator Foot, the Nev Senator seized the opportunity to offer a substitute for Senator series an opportunity to original resolution.

The Senator has a peculiar knack of selecting important occasions for the introduction of his measures, and from all appearance must keep a stock of resolutions, amendments and substitutes on hand for such changes. If the question is not soon brought up the radicals will experience some difficulty in finding their way out of the maxe of propositions already booked for ECLOGIES ON THE LATE SENATOR FOOT—A COL-ORED GENTLEMAN IN THE DIPLOMATIC GALLERY. As announced some days since the eulogies on the life As announced some days since the culogies on the life and character of the late Solomon Foot, Senator from Vermont, passed off to-day before a large assemblage of ladies and gentlemen in the galleries and a full attendance of Senators able to be present. The culogies were made by Senators Poland, Reverty Johnson, Fessenden, Brown, Sumner, Pomeroy, Cragin, Edmunds and McDougall, and were eloquent testimonials to the virtues and great services of the departed Senator. During the solemn ceremonies an incident occurred which tues and great services of the departed Senator. During the solemn ceremonies an incident occurred which somewhat disturbed the seriousness of a large number of persons. By some means a colored citizen alipped into the diplomate gallery and seated himself with great dignity in a prominent position and in close proximity to several members of the foreign legations. After remaining for several minutes the doorkeeper undertook to remove the intruder, when a brief parley ensued, the sable citizen agmaranty showing an inclination to account sable citizen apparently showing an inclination to exer-cise his civil rights by refusing to go. A little persua-sion, however, effected the result peaceably, and the "genman" transferred his corpus into the midst of his fellow citizens of the republic in the public galleries. THE TEST OATH.

In reply to a resolution of inquiry from the Senate, appointments to offices of salaries or emoluments under the Post Office Department have been made in Southern unexplained.

We are authorized to say that the published statement the Post Office Department had contracted for an overland mail from the western terminus of the eight end of the Union Pacific Railroad by way of Smary Hill to Denver City, and thence to California, thus making two daily lines across the plains, is wholly untrue.

LAW AGAINST THE IMPOSTATION OF POREIG

A joint resolution, protesting against the pardoning of criminals by foreign Powers on condition that they emigrate to the United States, became a law, so far as legislation could make it, to-day. The republic of Switzerland has been particularly active in this respect. This protest will be communicated to all foreign Powers. A GUNBOAT FOR LIBERIA.

A Senate bill authorizing the President, through his Secretary of the Treasury, to transfer a gunboat to the republic of Liberia on payment of a reasonable sum therefor, was passed by the House this afternoon. RELIEP OF ARMY PAYMASTERS.

The bill for the relief of paymasters of the army—that granting them one-quarier of one per cent on all disbursements—was resuscitated in the House to-day. Mr. Conkling's substitute, that the relief should apply to paymasters who had run risks in the field, was received with a good deal of satisfaction. Ultimately the bill was re-committed, with Conkling's substitute, to the Committee on Military Affairs.

RECOGNES ON THE LATE SENATOR FOOT.

He was followed by Messrs. Johnson, Fessenden, Morrill, Brown, Summer, Pomercy, Cracin, Edmunds and McDougall, who paid carnast tributes of respect to the deceased Senator.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES. ARMS FOR THE PROFILE OF MONTANA TERRITORY. Mr. SEITH, (rep.) of Ky., offered a resolution, which was adopted, instructing the Committee on the Militia to inquire into the expediency of furnishing citizens of Montana with firearms and ammunition for immediate defence against hostile Indians. STOPPAGES AGAINST ARMY PAYMANTERS

Mr. Wassium, (rep.) of Ind., offered a resolution, which was adopted, requesting the Paymaster General of the Army to furnish the House with the names of all paymasters, or add tional paymasters, against whom stoppages are now standing, and the nature and cause of the pages are now standing, and the moved to reconsider the same.

Mr. Farksworm, (rep.) of Ill., moved to reconsider the vote by which the resolution was adopted, on the ground that it was great injustice to drag before the public the names of paymanters having stoppages against them; most of which were owing to the confusion of orders.

Mr. STRYLES, (rep.) of Fa., added that paymasters' accounts were only settled down to within three years of the time, and in the meantline the whole balance was charged against them.

Mr. Strums, [rep.] of ra, added that paymaters accounts were only settled down to within three years of tha time, and in the meantime the whole balance was charged against them.

Mr. Schener, [rep.] of Ohio, suggested also that the publication of the fact would alarm the bondlemen of the paymasters, and a general panic would be created, while the accounts were not actually settled.

Mr. Wamburns, of Ind., stated that there was a bill pending for the relief of paymasters, and the House should have the information called for in the resolution, so as to be able to act understandingly on the bill. A memorial from these paymasters was laid this morning on the deaks of members, in which it was stated that they have no access to the accounts.

Mr. Garriel, [rep.] of Ohio, regarded it as an unprecedented proposition to drag up a tong list of unsettled, unadjusted accounts. The effect would be to slarm the bondamen of paymasters without sufficient cause.

Mr. Schener and that the Military Committee had not gone prying into individual accounts, and if the committee had obtained the information, it would not have felt justified in apreading it before the House, in debate, at his accounts had only been partially settled.

The vote adopting the resolution was reconsidered, and the question recurred on its readoption.

Mr. Warrworn, (rep.) of Ill, though it right that the House for immediate action, now or never, and he thought these paymasters should be willing to trust the House Mr. Charles, (den.) of N. Y., rose for information. Mr. Warrworn with he would prove that the thing of the committee on Military Affairs, who was the only one capable of giving information on the senject.

Mr. Schener had been referred to the Committee on Military Affairs, involving accessfully an lequity into the whole-
